Degembris inspires imagination of former times, remaining an unspoilt gem of Cornish history.

The present farmhouse was built in the 16th to early 17th century of Killas and Elvan with additions in the late 18th century. This Grade II listed building has the unusual feature of having a slate hung exterior.

The farmhouse gardens overlook a picturesque wooded valley, the perfect place to relax and unwind, or enjoy a stroll along our country trail.

Centrally situated in beautiful countryside, yet close to the sea, Degembris is the perfect holiday base. The county is blessed with superb National Trust houses and numerous attractions, including the Eden project and The Lost Gardens of Heligan.

Our coastlines and beaches are among the worlds finest, varying from the rugged North coast to the gentler South coast. Country and coast path walks, sunsets and Cornish heritage, old churches and Truro's Cathedral city, there is something for everyone.
